NEW! DELAFLEX® for water storage 15 YEAR WARRANTY

DL Plastics B.V. has been known for many years as a supplier and manufacturer of high quality plastic materials and finished products.

In our private factory our certified professionals use the latest welding equipment and we are yearly producing thousands of liners for waterproofing of tanks or silos for water storage and also hundreds of waterproofing membranes for water lagoons. These high quality products are traded in the Netherlands and also exported to all parts of the world.

At this moment there are a few standard materials used for these application like; flexible PVC, FPP and LDPE lining.

Most famous problems by using these standard materials are leakage caused by recirculation water or influence of UV light (Sun) or damage due to wind.

After years of research there is developed a new flexible Liner who viewed on the test results is better suited for these applications.

The test results show us that this extremely high quality material is better resistance against influence of UV (Sun) light and more resistant to high mechanical stress and more resistance against damage due to wind.
